

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS xv

INTRODUCTION 1

PART 1 TAPPING YOUR NATURAL WEIRDNESS
(aka Creative Thinking & Problem-Solving)

Three Barriers to Creativity 8

Second Right Answers 13

In Search of QWERTYUIOPs 16

Whatiffing 17

Let Your Fingers Do the Thinking 20

Wall of Shame 21

Break the Mold 22

How Bad Can It Get? 23

Five Whys 24

Press Release of the Future 26

Challenges for Change 27

Personal Brainspurt Journal 29

PART 2 WEIRD IDEAS TO WIN TODAY'S TALENT
(aka Recruitment)

1. All the Right Places 34
(sending press releases to publications that are important to your employees)

2. All the Wrong Places 34
(advertising in nontraditional places and recruiting nontraditional candidates with transferable skills)

3. WYSIWYG 38
(watching for people inside your company—but not directly employed by you—whom you could hire)

4. What's Your Sign? 39
(asking weird questions to reveal potential employees' attitudes)

5. Postnuptials 40
(delaying exit interviews until an ex-employee's honeymoon with the new employer has worn off)
6. "Get out of Jail Free" Card 41
(giving ex-employees the opportunity to bypass the bureaucracy if they want to return)
7. Bridge over Troubled Waters. 42
(bridging or restoring prior service if ex-employees return)
8. Missing You 43
(organizing an alumni organization of ex-employees)
9. Opportunity Knocks 45
(sending job postings to alumni)
10. Homecoming Celebration 46
(holding a welcome back party when an alum returns)
11. Birds of a Feather 46
(involving peer hosts in recruiting)
12. Hire Times 48
(arranging post-interview fun for candidates and their significant others)
13. Wanna Trade? 49
(bartering tickets to special events for qualified résumés)
14. Bozo Filters 50
(getting unqualified candidates to screen themselves out)
15. Headhunter Hostage Pay. 52
(offering headhunters deferred bonuses when the people they supply stay and perform well)
16. Secondhand References 54
(going beyond the references candidates give)
17. DORK. 55
(delaying your offer rejection questionnaire until the honeymoon with the new employer is over)
18. Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds. 56
(using airplane banners or skywriters to get your message to the right people)

- 19. Monica 57
(making interns want to come back full-time and giving them incentives to do so)
- 20. Are You Talking to Me? 59
(tailoring your ads to suit your audience)
- 21. Bird Dog Biscuits 60
(offering bonuses for referring new employees)
- 22. Bait the Hook 62
(paying hiring bonuses)

PART 3 WEIRD IDEAS FOR THE CARE AND FEEDING OF TODAY'S TALENT (aka Retention)

- 23. Gimme Three Words 67
(asking employees to describe the company and its culture in three words and compiling the results)
- 24. Come on Down! 68
(opening meetings to all employees)
- 25. Mirandas 70
(developing anti-policies that set people free)
- 26. Heard It through the Grapevine 72
(creating your own grapevine by using voice-mail to give employees the latest company information on current issues, challenges, and trends)
- 27. Mind Your Own Business! 73
(instituting open book management to make everyone a business partner)
- 28. Family Day 75
(holding a company or department open house so that significant others can see what your company does)
- 29. Trinkets and Trash 76
(offering logo paraphernalia, both free and for sale)
- 30. Personal Space 77
(allowing/empowering people to personalize their work space)
- 31. 1 + 1 = 3 78
(developing strategic alliances to offer your employees and customers additional products or services)

- 32. Rock Me, Baby! 79
(capitalizing on the music young workers like as an attraction)
- 33. Show Me How to Keep the Money 80
(providing all employees with financial planning)
- 34. Will Work for Food 81
(offering junk food at work)
- 35. Brainpower Inventory 82 (taking a survey of employees' skills and finding ways to use those skills)
- 36. Cards for Everyone! 82
(giving all employees business cards)
- 37. Wish List 83
(posting a list of projects that you would love to see accomplished but that won't be done unless people volunteer)
- 38. Firefighter's Hours 84 (fitting the same number of hours into fewer days, allowing more days off)
- 39. Galloping Gourmets 85 (providing take-home gourmet dinners for employees and their families)
- 40. Food for Thought 86 (scheduling learning programs over a provided lunch)
- 41. Learning, Not Leaving 88
(creating an education "bank account" that increases in value while the employee stays)
- 42. Lose the Legalese 89 (lightening up the language in your internal communications)
- 43. Special Services 97
(providing services your employees need [dry cleaning, haircuts, shoeshines, manicures, car wash/repair] on your premises)
- 44. Free Consultants 100
(asking new employees or customers for feedback about their experience with your company)

PART 4 WEIRD IDEAS FOR CHANGING YOUR COMPANY CULTURE (aka Fun & Games with a Purpose & a Profit)
45. Are We Having Fun Yet?	105
(establishing a fun committee)
46. Chain Letters	106
(institutionalizing the sharing of useful or interesting information)
47. Dating Game	106
(organizing a singles/dating book)
48. Graffiti for Good	108
(providing a room where people can write on the walls for a fee, with the money going to a good cause)
49. Hello, My Name Is...and I'm....	110
(encouraging in-house support groups or clubs, or allowing outside groups in)
50. Humor Room	111
(giving people a place to play with fun and funny trinkets and trash)
51. Camp MED.	112
(providing a meditation room with private tents)
52. It's My Party	112
(organizing unexpected activities to create changes of conversation and break up cliques at parties)
53. Let's Play Dress-Up.	114
(abandoning conventional dress on occasion by encouraging employees to wear costumes and theme attire)
54. Now We're Cookin'.	115
(having management cook, serve, and clean up after a meal)
55. Oh, Baby!	116
(getting people to bring in baby pictures)
56. Show 'n' Tell	116
(asking employees to share personal treasures)
57. Talent Show.	117
(finding and showcasing employees' hidden talents)

- 58. That's Entertainment 118
(inviting outside performers to your organization)
- 59. Work Smells 118
(changing the way the workplace smells)
- 60. You Can Call Me Ray! 119
(letting people create their own job titles)
- 61. You're a Winner! 120
(using contests to get people involved)
- 62. You're Kidding! 121
(opening your doors to employees' children)

PART 5 WEIRD IDEAS FOR PERKS, PAY, AND PATS ON THE BACK (aka Recognition & Incentives)

- 63. Ambassadors, Advocates, and Apostles 124
(giving nonsalespeople incentives to sell your products and services)
- 64. Wall of Fame 125
(displaying your employees' successes)
- 65. One-Minute Parades 126
(organizing brief and creative celebrations)
- 66. Name That Room 126
(recognizing employees or customers by naming rooms after them)
- 67. Public Résumés 127
(putting up signs that tell the world who your people are—their skills, experience, and hobbies)
- 68. No Parking 128
(using reserved parking spaces as a means of recognition)
- 69. I'll Scratch Yours 129
(giving employees vouchers that are valuable only if given to someone else for a specified reason)
- 70. Peer Pats 130
(creating ways for peers to acknowledge and thank one another)
- 71. Bribe the Bride (or Groom or Domestic Partner) 131
(rewarding an employee's significant other for sacrificing her or his partner)
- 72. Cooperation Compensation 132
(having departments specify what they want)

- from each other and rate each other on how well they provide these things)
- 73. Get the Point(s) 133
(using points as rewards to produce incremental behavior modification)
- 74. Gimme a Break! 136
(giving employees discounts on products and services, your own and others')
- 75. Show Me the Money NOW! 138
(offering immediate incentives for behavior modification)
- 76. What Are My Options? 140
(giving options tied to individual projects rather than options on company stock)

PART 6 WEIRD IDEAS FOR EDUCATING TODAY'S TALENT
(aka Training & Development)

- 77. Do Your Workwork! 142
(creating an orientation workbook that requires internal networking to complete)
- 78. Collect the Dots 143
(getting employees to be conscientious by planting dots in hard-to-clean places and rewarding the employees for finding them)
- 79. Mystery Mess. 144
(offering prizes for picking up clutter)
- 80. Whaddaya Know? 144
(organizing employee learning through puzzles, quizzes, and games)
- 81. Reverse Mentoring 146
(arranging for new, entry-level employees to pass on their fresh knowledge to older employees)
- 82. Training Theater 148
(using skits to train employees in how to's and how not to's)
- 83. Road Trip 149
(taking employees to visit suppliers, customers, vendors, or retailers to gain ideas and understanding)
- 84. Silo Destruction. 150 (sponsoring interdepartment open houses to break down barriers by showing employees what others do)

85. Sales Tagalongs 152
(taking nonsalespeople on sales calls)

86. Practice Makes Perfect. 153
(taping customer calls so that trainees as a group can practice handling them)

87. KISS 153
(keeping themes or buttons simple)

88. Share the Wealth of Knowledge 155
(asking people to donate tapes, books, and other resources to a common library)

89. Irreverence and Irrelevance 156
(providing non-job-related training, seminars, and lessons)

90. Read between the Lines. 157
(writing a note in the margin to find out whether someone has read something you have given him or her to read)

91. Getting to Know You. 158
(using exercises to get people to know more about one another)

92. Put Your Money Where Your Mouth Is! 162
(instituting fines for misspeaking)

93. Wanted: Dead or Achieved! 163
(posting each employee's most important to-do item)

PART 7 WEIRD IDEAS FOR ENHANCING YOUR COMPANY IMAGE (aka Sales, Service, Public Relations, & Personal Satisfaction)

94. Gorilla Shopping 166
(mystery shopping your own products or services at retailers or resellers)

95. Customer Appreciation Days 169
(honoring customers and creating a media scene while doing so)

96. Customer Clinics. 171
(sponsoring special events to help customers use or get value from your products or services)

97. Greeters and Minglers 172

- (having people put customers or visitors at ease and help them find their way around and complete any necessary forms)
- 98. Let's Get Personal 174
(keeping track of personal information on customers or employees in order to build relationships)
- 99. Waste Not, Want Not 175
(donating leftovers to homeless shelters and food banks)
- 100. Get a Life 176
(developing ways to engage all your interests)

PART 8 WHERE'S IOI? (aka It's All In Your Head!)

- IDEA SUBMISSION FORM 180
- ALPHABETICAL LIST OF IDEAS 181
- LIST OF ORGANIZATIONS NOTED IN THE TEXT 187